Concepts to read D9 navamsa chart

1) Analyze your Navamsa lord of 7th lord (From lagan chart)…in lagan chart.
This will give you the information about, what are the qualities which helps you to hold your relationship or the qualities which you and your spouse cherish and because of which you two are together.

For example, take Scorpio lagan, Venus becomes the 7th lord (take the corrected lordship from cusp chart), suppose Venus is placed in Capricorn in d-9, now the lord of this rashi is Saturn, Hence see the strength, placement, conjunctions of this Saturn in LAGAN chart.

2) See the placement of Navamsa lagan lord in Navamsa chart.
Now observe how the native inherently behaves with his/her spouse.
If it is placed in 6th house: native will tend to fight with his/her spouse.
8th house: native will hide the things from his spouse and will not be transparent.
12th house: The native would be indifferent for his or her spouse.

3) See the placement, strength, conjunctions of the Navamsa lagan lord in lagan chart.
This will give you the information about, how the native behaves with his spouse in front of the whole world.

4) Spouse should be seen from 7th house of Navamsa chart. How will he/she behaves with the native.

Apply the 2nd and 3rd points likewise.

Few more concepts

1) Kind of relationship between the native and his spouse can also be judged by the intensity of friendship between the lagan lord and Navamsa lagan lord.

But careful analysis should be done before jumping to any conclusion.

For ex: If a native has Scorpio ascendant and Virgo ascendant is in Navamsa then though mars and mercury are enemies but if Jupiter happens to be in Navamsa lagan then since Jupiter is the friend of mars so the bad influence would be reduced an astrologer should be very careful while analyzing things.

2) If the lord of Navamsa lagan is present in 2nd or 11th house of lagan chart then the spouse will bring wealth to the family.

3) If Lord of the Navamsa happens to be in lagan or 7th or 9th house of lagan chart then marriage would be auspicious and stable.

Basics of navamsa chart reading, interpretation and analysis

The lords of 1st, 4th and 7th navamsa of a sign represent the Deva ("Divine beings" and constructive forces); persons born with any of these navamsas rising in the Lagna are generous, religious, wealthy, powerful and influential. Persons born in the 2nd, 5th or the 8th navamsa whose lords represent the Naras ("Human beings" and their efforts) are generally kind, good natured, engaged in the pursuits of human welfare and reputed; and in the 3rd, the 6th or the 9th navamsa whose lords represent the Rakshasas ("Demonic beings" and evil forces) are selfish,cruel, violent, destructive and possess many negative qualities. Moreover, the Lagna-rasi and the Lagna-lord should not form or occupy the 6th, the 8th or the 12th bhava in the Navamsa Chart nor the lords of the 6th, the 8th or the 12th of the Rasi Chart associate with the Navamsa Lagna or its lord.

In the Jaimini System of prognostication the use of seven karakas determined according to the respective degrees of the seven planets is recommended and their navamsa-occupation is noted its highly important.

Birth in Vargottama Lagna is considered very fortunate and planets in Vargottama are very strong and confer benefic results if they do not occupy inimical signs. The occupation of own navamsa by a planet is superior to the occupation of its exaltation-navamsa. The planet which is in its exaltation sign in the Rasi-chart but situated in its neecha-navamsa (debilitated in Navamsa-chart) produces its bad results very soon, however, a planet situated in its debilitation sign in the Rasi-chart but in its uccha-navamsa (exalted in Navamsa-chart) invariably confers auspicious results. If at the time of birth planets are placed in inimical signs even if they be in Vargottama they render all Raja yogas useless, the same is true if many planets are in debilitation. The Rajayogakarakas cease to be Rajayogakarakas if the happen to occupy their neecha-navamsas. Saturn occupying its own or exaltation sign does not afflict natural benefics or their yoga-formations provided it does not simultaneously occupy its neecha-navamsa but all planets occupying navamsas ruled by Jupiter usually act as benefics and if situated in a kendra, in the 9th or in the 2nd house from the lagna make one very learned, famous and even establish a new school of thought or system. Rahu and Ketu (mythology) do not rule any navamsa-division but a navamsa of Mars is to be found in all signs.

Results of planetary periods (dashas) and sub-periods (antra-dashas) vary in accordance with the particular location of those bhava-lords in the Navamsa-chart. A planet otherwise strongly placed in the Rasi-chart with reference to a specific bhava or its lord does not produce in its own dasha/antra-dasha the anticipated good results relating to that bhava in full if it happens to be situated in the navamsa-chart in the 6th, the 8th or the 12th from the sign occupied by that particular bhava-lord e.g. the lord of the Lagna situated in the 3rd house in conjunction with the lord of the 3rd gives prosperous, happy and helpful brothers but if in the navamsa-chart the lord of the lagna is in the 6th, the 8th or the 12th from the lord of the 3rd then there may be enmity with brothers or sorrow to them. If the lord of the 2nd house is in conjunction with the lord of the 10th situated in the 10th house and the lord of the lagna is involved in Rajayoga one secures a high political or administrative position during the dasha/antra-dasha of the lord of the 2nd house but in case in the navamsa-chart the lord of the 2nd is in the 6th, the 8th or the 12th from the lord of the 10th then contrary results will be experienced.

Rules for Interpretation

Following are some rules for interpreting a horoscope :

1. A strong planet boosts and a weak planet spoils the traits of its house.

2. A natural malefic is not always bad for everyone, it depends on its position in chart, similarly natural benefic is also not always good.

3. Sun, Mars, Rahu, Ketu, Saturn are natural malefic planets and venus, jupiter, mercury are natural benefic planets.

4. Irrespective of the fact of natural malefics or benefics a planet can be benefic or malefic according to house it owns(understand the difference b/w natural malefic-benefic and only malefic-benefic).

5. Lords of VIth, VIIIth, and XIIth house are considered malefics.

6. Lords of angular and trine house are considered benefics.

7. A house gets weakened if its Lord is posited in VIth, VIIIth or XIIth house.

8. A house gets strengthened if it is associated with Lord of Ascendant by conjunction or aspect, or occupies an Angular or Trine house.

9. A house that is aspected by its own lord gets strengthened, irrespective of the fact whether the planet aspecting is a natural benefic or malefic. If the house so aspected or its Lord is also aspected by a benefic planet, the traits of the house get further boosted.

10. As per 9 above, if a natural malefic planet aspects its own house, its traits get strengthened, but it harms the living things represented by that house.

11. A planet owning two signs and aspecting one of its signs in any house not only strengthens that house, but also strengthens the house in which it's other sign falls.

12. Among the evil houses, VIIIth is the worst, IIIrd is a mild one, and then come VIth and XIIth.

13. Lord of XIIth house, Sun, Saturn, and Rahu have separative effects on the traits of the house where posited/associated.

14. Venus in XIIth house gives good results, as both, the XIIth house and Venus, represent luxuries and enjoyments of life.

15. A planet who owns an angular (Kendra) house and a trine (Trikona) house is said to be a yogakarak planet. A yogakarak planet, whether benefic or malefic, always gives good results.

16. The Lord of two angular houses (Kendras - 1st, IVth, VIIth, Xth houses) ceases to be benefic or malefic, when it is natural benefic or malefic respectively.

17. Any association with the Lords of VIth, VIIIth or XIIth house is bad for that house.

18. Lords of Vth and IXth house always give good results in financial matters irrespective of the fact whether they are malefics or benefics, but natural benefic Lords of Vth and IXth houses are more beneficial.

19. Excepting Sun and Moon, the Lord of VIIIth house is always bad.

20. Lord of VIIIth house is not considered bad if it is Lord of Ascendant as well.

21. The Lords of IIIrd, VIth, and XIth Houses are considered as bad, specially in matters pertaining to health.

22. If the Lord of IInd or XIIth house is a planet, which owns two signs, it will give the results, good or bad, pertaining to the sign which is posited in the house other than IInd or XIIth house.

23. When alone, Rahu and Ketu give the results of the Lord of the sign in which they are posited or the effects of the planets with which associated or conjoined, or the effects of planets which aspect them.

24. Moon is considered malefic if it is within 72° from Sun on either side, i.e. from the 8th day of the Bright Half to the 8th day of the Dark Half of the lunar month. It is considered to be the most malefic when it has the same longitude as Sun.

25. Mercury when alone, unaspected or with benefics is benefic. When Mercury is associated with or aspected by malefic(s), it is malefic.

26. Every planet throws full influence or aspects the house, sign or planet, which is 7th from it.

27. In addition, some planets have special aspects. Saturn aspects the IIIrd and Xth house. Mars aspects IVth and VIIIth house. Jupiter aspects Vth and IXth house. Rahu and Ketu also aspect Vth and IXth house.

28. Lord of XIth, whether benefic or malefic, gives results about financial matters according to its strength.

29. Every planet when exalted has maximum strength and when debilitated has minimum strength.

30. If a benefic planet is hemmed in between two malefics, it will also act as a malefic planet. If there are malefics on both the sides of a house, the traits of that house get spoiled.

31. Strength of Lords of Houses is in the following order :

Lord of Ist, IV, VII, Xth Houses;

Lord of Vth, IXth;

Lord of IIIrd, VIth, XIth

In short, Lord of IVth is stronger than Lord of I, Lord of VIIth is stronger than Lord of IV, Lord of Xth is stronger than Lord of VII, and so on. These are three groups.

32. Following are the yogas for cancellation of debilitation :

i. When the debilitated planet is in angular house (Kendra) from the Ascendent or the Moon,

ii. When the Lord of the sign where the debilitated planet gets exalted is in angular house (Kendra) from the Ascendant or Moon, iii. The Lord of the debilitation sign of the debilitated planet and the Lord of the exaltation sign of the debilitated planet are mutually in angular house (Kendras).

iv. When the planet in debilitation is aspected by the Lord of the exaltation sign of that debilitated planet.

v. When the planet which is exalted in the debilitation sign of the debilitated planet is in angular house (Kendra) from the Ascendant or Moon.

What is Upapada lagna and how to find Upapada lagna

Upapada, also known as Gaunapada, is the 'Arudha' of the 12th bhava of the chart.

(Gauna - means one who follows {Anuchara - that which follows - Sloka 2 of Chapter 30-BPHS} Accordingly, the 'Arudha' of the bhava that follows (12th) the Lagna is, thus, the Gaunapada or Upapada.)

For example suppose lagna is gemini, sign in 12th bhav will be taurus. Now let 12th lord venus is sitting in 10th house which is 11th from 12th house. Than 11th from 10th house will be the upapada lagna that is capricorn in 8th house.

This pada determines the inner nature/attitude of the native towards the spouse. The 'Sambandha' or relationship of the lord of Upapada vis-à-vis the Lagna lord, by way of placement, will determine whether the native would marry at all or not. If the lord of Upapada goes to the 12th (the house for sacrifice/Tyaga) therefrom, it indicates a sure sign of denial of marriage. This would also indicate the delays, if any, and the reasons for such delay in marriage.

Now, how do we see the 'sambandha' of the lord of Upapada with the lord of Lagna?

The rasi/sign occupied by the lord of the Lagna is called 'Paka Lagna'. The Paka Lagna signifies the whims and fancies of the native. While the natal Lagna determines what is good or bad for the body, Paka Lagna signifies what a person likes or dislikes. Thus, a papa graha occupying the Lagna will not signify clearly the likes and dislikes of the person as the Paka Lagna would.

Therefore, the relationship between a graha and the lord of the Lagna/Paka Lagna should be studied carefully to determine the likes and dislikes, whims and fancies etc., of a person. When the sambandha of a graha is not good with the lord of Lagna/Paka Lagna, the graha tends to reject its significations. This determines the fact that a certain placement of a graha, though it signifies certain naisargik qualities, loses such qualities in terms of its relationship with the lord of the Lagna/Paka Lagna. This has to be studied carefully to determine whether the person would marry or not, what the person will like or dislike, what the person will adapt or renounce etc. For example, mere occupation of Lagna by Shani - a naisargika significator of alcohol and negative things - will not determine the persons liking for alcohol or negative aspects as his paka lagna would, while the converse is true in the case of benefics.

(Note: However, Brihaspati [Karaka for 'Jeeva' and Dhi Shakti which is the most important quality of man] is the naisargik karaka for Paka Lagna.)

Since Upapada determines the nature/attitude of the person towards the spouse who is a lifelong partner, it is very important that the sign/rasi of the Upapada is auspicious. It is the auspiciousness of the rasi that determines the purity of nature of the native and how the person would treat the spouse. Any affliction to the rasi, or if the rasi is inauspicious, to that extent the native's attitude towards the spouse is affected. This would mean that the compatibility, fidelity, affection etc., which form the basics of good spousal relationship, either become questionable or it is totally absent depending on the inauspiciousness or affliction of the sign.

Thus, the lord of Gaunapada becomes very important in determining the spouse (family etc.,), spousal attitude of the person, and happiness/sorrow from spouse. An exalted lord of Upapada will bring to the native a spouse from a noble family, while in the case of a debilitated lord of Upapada the reverse holds true meaning thereby that the spouse will be from a family below the status of the native.

How to predict using Upapada Lagna

Following are the significations in the case of the lord of Upapada being conjoined with:

1. Surya - the spouse would be from a family enjoying political power, or from a higher caste meaning change in caste (as Sun represents temples - a place where people of higher learning/caste live/work);

2. Moon - the spouse could be from a wealthy family, or a family with immense popularity.

3. Mars - the spouse could be from a family linked with the Martian qualities like Police, Military, Kshatriya families etc.

4. Mercury - the spouse could be from a family involved in dealing with writing/books, or in accounting professions, or in trade.

5. Jupiter - the spouse would be from a brahmin family, or from a learned family, or from a judicial family.

6. Venus - the spouse could be from a family with a poetic and romantic touch, artistic flair, involved with cattle (like dairying), dealing in clothes or cosmetics, or anything that is linked with beauty.

7. Saturn - the spouse would be from a lower family, or lower caste, or from a family engaged in menial jobs such as factory workers etc.

8. Rahu - the spouse would be from a family involved in gambling and other such related activities, or from a foreign land.

9. Ketu - the spouse could belong to an ascetic family, or a family that is detached from normal stream of society.

As we know the principle that it is always the 2nd bhava that sustains the previous bhava, determining the effects of the 2nd bhava from Upapada becomes important in determining the sustenance of the marriage. Any afflictions or inauspiciousness of the 2nd bhava from the Upapada will indicate the length of marriage i.e., how long the marriage would last and when it breaks what will be the reasons that determine such a break. From this we get an important principle:- The nature of sign in the 2nd bhava from Upapada is important in determining the real cause of break in marriage (which could be in the form of death (under various circumstances), legal or illegal separation, separation due to other ordinary or extraordinary circumstances etc.,).

The following graha placements/rasi in the 2nd bhava from Upapada indicate the broad causes for break in marriage:

1. If the 2nd from Upapada happens to locate a benefic, or it is aspected by or conjunct with a benefic, then the native enjoys good results (from wife) - [BPHS: Chapter 30 - Slokas 7 to 12].

2. If the 2nd from Upapada happens to locate a papa graha, and/or it is occupied or aspected by or conjunct with a graha in debilitation (either in rasi/navamsa), then the destruction of wife/marital happiness is bound to happen. [BPHS: Chapter 30 - Slokas 7 to 12].

3. If the 2nd from Upapada happens to locate an exalted graha (either in rasi or navamsa) or should receive aspect by any such graha, then the person should have many wives. The same is also applicable in the case of Mithun (quality of copulation and many companions) being the 2nd from Upapada. Even Taurus (owned by Shukra) is known to give plurality of marriage. [BPHS: Chapter 30 - Slokas 7 to 12].

4. If the 2nd from Upapada happens to be occupied by its own lord or if the said lord is in his other house (in the case of dual ownership), then the death of wife will be at an advanced age. [BPHS: Chapter 30 - Slokas 7 to 12].

5. If the graha, which is a constant indicator of wife (either the 7th lord or Sukra) is in own house, the loss of wife will be only at an advanced stage. (BPHS: Chapter 30 - Slokas 13 to 15).

6. If the lord of 2nd from Upapada is 2nd from the Lagna (natal ascendant) and is with a papa graha, then the marriage could break due to the native's thieving habits.

7. Shani and Rahu in 2nd from Upapada - loss of wife through death and calumny (slander). (BPHS: Chapter 30 - Sloka - 16). If the said 2nd happens to be Shani's own house (Makar or Kumbh) the wife will have disease in legs; and, if Rahu too joins Shani's own house in 2nd, the wife is sure to be lame. Shani, Rahu and Surya in the said 2nd will cause distress to bones (Surya rules bones).

8. Mercury in 2nd from Upapada will cause verbal warfare (Budh rules speech) with wife. Even excess speech (unwanted speech) can damage the marriage. The marriage could break due to extra-marital relationships, as Budh rules Mithun and Mithun signifies such relationships. Budh also signifies dealing with books and writing. Indulgence in books and writing could lead to a break in marriage. Budh and Ketu in 2nd from Upapada causes breakage of bones. (BPHS: Chapter 30 - Sloka - 18). Budh and Rahu in 2nd from Upapada will give a stout body to the wife. (Slokas 19-22). If Mangal and Shani occupy such a 2nd house that happens to be owned by Budh, the wife then suffers from nasal disorders. (Slokas 19-22). Budh and Mangal in the 2nd from Upapada will cause dental disorders to the wife. (Slokas 19-22). However, Budh in 2nd from Upapada in wife's horoscope will indicate a strong Rajyog for the husband. This too could be a cause of break in marriage.)

9. Shukra in 2nd from Upapada could signify break in marriage due to libidinous activities. Rishabh being such a 2nd house indicates many wives or plurality of marriage, which could also be a cause for break in marriage. (BPHS: Chapter 30 - Slokas 7-12). Shukra and Ketu in 2nd from Upapada will cause disorder of blood, leucorrhoea. (BPHS: Chapter 30: Sloka 17).

10. Moon in 2nd from Upapada would signify break in marriage (or death) due to problems in the lymphatic fluids that would damage the physical health of the wife. As Moon rules mind, it could also indicate emotional problems leading to break in marriage. If Shani afflicts such placement of the Moon, it is sure to cause severe depressions for the wife.

11. Surya in 2nd from Upapada would cause death/separation due to high fevers, bone disorders.

12. Brihaspati in the 2nd from Upapada would cause break due to child birth/childlessness, lack of intelligence, excess weight etc. Jupiter and Rahu in such a 2nd house will cause dental problems; while Guru and Shani in such a 2nd house will cause trouble in eyes/ears of the wife. (BPHS: Chapter 30: Slokas 19-22).

13. If Mangal happens to be in 2nd from Upapada, it could cause separation from wife through sudden accidents in combination with Kethu for certain; blood disorders; death in fights; death due to arms and ammunitions; separation due to fiery temperament; anger and inflexibility and ego; and other Martian qualities.

However, all these are to be studied from the natal ascendant, Lagna Pada (Arudha of Lagna), the 7th from Upapada and the lords thereof. (BPHS: Chapter 30: Slokas 22 & 23.5).

(Upaya for delayed marriage: Fasting on the days of the lord - can consume only milk and some fruits.)

However, to clear the general afflictions to the 7th bhava and also the kidney, prayer to Lord Shiva is the key. Chanting the Maha Mrityunjeya Mantra 11 times with milk held in the hand and consuming that milk immediately thereafter helps in removing all poison (toxicity) from the body. This not only purifies the mind (thought) but also cleanses the kidney, which is signified by the 7th bhava. [Maharshi Attri is believed to cleansed the body of Lord Shiva off all the poison that he consumed during Sagar Manthana by placing Moon on his (Shiva's) head. Hence milk (signified by Moon) is believed to cure the afflictions of this house (ruled by Shiva) with the chanting of Maha Mrityunjeya Mantra.
